Hi Doug; I stopped at your house yesterday evening. No one was home but the goat was still wandering around loose. The goat spent time on the town beach around 11:00 yesterday morning and that is just not acceptable. I had problems with that goat several times last summer. You have got to build and use some form of restraint starting now. Please deal with this now. It is not cute or funny to have the goat wandering around loose away from your property, people feel threatened by it and it is a pain in the rear end. Please. Chris Murphy
